

I fully support the ARRL's filing. This is by far the best possible road for amateur radio to take. Consolidating all current licensees into three classes, retaining the Element 1 Morse requirement--now 5 WPM--only for the highest class is a logical step. It simplifies the license structure as well as brings us into compliance with foreign Hams. I request the adoption of this as soon as possible